Adventures on Two Wheels

Harry Wilson is a keen cyclist. He loves going on long cycling trips. He and his friend, Alex, are cycling in Jordan now. We phoned Harry to ask him a few questions ...

Why do you like long cycling trips?

I love the feeling of freedom, and being outdoors. Also, we meet a lot of interesting people!

What's the most difficult thing about this trip?

The heat. We're going to cycle through Wadi Rum next week. It isn't easy cycling in the desert. You need plenty of water and sun cream.

Do you eat a lot of food when you're cycling?

Yes, we're always hungry! Cycling uses a lot of energy.

Where do you sleep?

Tonight we're sleeping in an eco-lodge. An eco-lodge is a place to stay in the desert which is good for the environment. We usually carry a tent so we can camp if there aren't any eco-lodges.

What do you do in the evenings?

We read, write our diaries, eat, plan our route ... At the moment, Alex is washing some clothes, and I'm talking to you! We also write blog posts and emails to tell people at home about our adventures.

What other trips have you done?

We've cycled in lots of countries: Spain, Italy, Slovenia, Iceland ... Ten years ago we cycled from Ecuador to the very south of Argentina. We cycled about 8,000 kilometres in eight months!

Are you planning any more trips?

No, but we have lots of ideas! I want to cycle in the Himalayas, Central Asia and North America!
