Q.1 Read the newspaper report, then answer the questions below. 15 points

Another First for Bay City College!

by Jago Matarian, Arts correspondent

In July I reported on the first festival. It was a huge success for Bay City International College and the student organisers. Now the students have come up with another new idea: a DVD containing all the main festival events and more.

The disc was launched yesterday during a special Arts Day in the College's Great Hall and received a tremendous reception from an enthusiastic audience. Headmistress, Miss Helen Jackson, told the audience how proud she was of what the students had achieved in putting on the festival. She believed that the festival had exceeded people's expectations and now the DVD would make the festival events available to an even wider audience.

The festival music programme attracted huge audiences, especially The River Boys' open-air concert on the first night when more than 1,000 people crammed onto the college football pitch to watch their show on the outdoor stage. Not only that, but there's an extra special track. Music student Gustav Hindman explained, 'I thought their music was so amazing that I contacted the group and asked if they would write something for the school orchestra. Not only did they write a song for us, but they came and performed it with us and it was recorded for the DVD. That's another first!'

The impressive dance programme included more than 150 performers from 15 different countries performing traditional dances from around the world. For me, the highlight of the dance events was the ballet performance which ended the festival. Festival organiser Tasha Simms said, 'Eva Zemanova, who comes from the Czech Republic, was able to put us in touch with a professional dance company from her country. We were very pleased for Eva that she had the opportunity to stand in for an injured ballerina and dance with the company on the last night of the festival.'

A sequence of photographs by art student Lucie Duval is an unusual and striking feature of the DVD. She documented visitors' reactions to the sculpture garden that was so popular with everyone, especially the children, who were encouraged to touch the sculptures.

One disappointment had been the cancellation of Eliza Brodie's appearance. The flamboyant, best-selling author pulled out at the last moment following the million-dollar offer made to her by a Hollywood studio for her book Himalayan Adventure, now being filmed on location in India. Fortunately, the literature programme was rescued by Miss Jackson. She got in touch with the well-known science fiction writer, Anthony Holt, who told her that he would be thrilled to replace Miss Brodie. Rudi Henning told me, 'Anthony Holt is great. He's a real inspiration to us all. All of us on the festival committee were tremendously grateful to him for stepping in at the last moment.'

Will there be another festival next year? Miss Jackson said, 'I've already asked the students if any of them will volunteer again. Up went the hands, without a moment's hesitation. I think we've started a tradition.'
