Robots Are Coming for Our Jobs ...

JUST SAYING | My blog by Samia Wakil | 18 October

I was talking to some friends yesterday about robots. Everyone thinks that there won't be any jobs left for us in the future because robots will do all our jobs instead. 'They're coming for our jobs,' one friend said! But I don't agree with this idea and I don't think there's any need to worry about the future.

Robots aren't coming for our jobs. They're already doing them! They do a lot of the jobs that people used to do in the past. For example, robots make cars in factories and milk cows on farms. This doesn't mean that people can't find jobs any more. It just means that people can do more interesting jobs now.

In the future, it's true that robots will do more jobs. For example, they will do housework and drive cars. But this means that we will have time to learn new things and do different jobs. Also, robots will never have ideas or feelings, so there are some jobs that they will never do. For example, a robot will never take care of a sick person like a nurse can and a robot will never understand what a worried child needs in the way a teacher can.

Let me know what you think about this ...

Kim: Completely agree! Robots can never take the place of people!

Anthony: I think you're wrong. By 2050, robots will do nearly half of all our jobs. What will we all do then?

Maha: We need to change how we think about work. There may be new jobs which nobody is doing yet. We need to keep learning and keep changing!

Nina: I'll be happy if a robot does my homework!
